Description

This '70s house with great bones missed the mark with a choppy layout and by obscuring a fantastic view. We opened the floorplan and the entire back wall to the water view. Between the 21-foot sliding door and a sleek combination of wood and painted cabinets, there's no way to miss the intention. It is now a space that is both calm and vibrant, ready to accommodate a party for 40 or a quiet fireside dinner for two.
